Therefore, it is highly recommended that the property owner contact State and/or Local agencies (including but not limited to the Michigan DNR/DEQ, Crawford County Building Department, and local health department) to determine whether additional permits are required.

Examples of types of projects that would require additional permits from other agencies

- New homes, additions, demolitions (partial or full), or accessory buildings: require local township zoning permits, county building permits, health department permits for new house or if adding bedrooms for addition. DEQ permit if any construction taking place in wetland or floodplain. Soil erosion permit.
- Dock, staircase into water, shoreline stabilization, or other project in the water: Local Natural River (NR) zoning permit, DEQ permit.
- Placement of fill: DEQ permit if in wetland or floodplain, twp. NR zoning permit, soil erosion permit.
- Public projects, such as public road-stream crossings, access site development/improvement, twp./county/federal projects, large scale in-stream habitat projects, requires utility/public project Natural Rivers permit directly from DNR.
